MACRO MARKET TRENDS

Macro trends broadening the addressable market

eCommerce | Cloud Transformation | Digitization | Supply Chain Disruption

More channels

- Channel proliferation drives added complexity
- Convergence of legacy and born-online brands
- Fueling demand for connectivity and channel management solutions

Deliver faster

- B2C consumer expectations are reshaping B2B
- Meeting consumer expectations in omnichannel environment places great pressure on supply chains

Demand for greater collaboration

- Need visibility deeper into supply chain
- Share more data (i.e., product availability) and make it actionable

Integration complexity

- Proliferation of SaaS apps businesses depend on
- Efficient supply chains demand deeper integration and orchestration across a broader set of categories

MARKETPLACE CHALLENGES

- Providing accurate inventory data and keeping stock up to date on both ends.
- Keeping track of customer orders, especially if you use multiple digital marketplaces.
- Exporting accurate, properly formatted, and up-to-date product info.
- Tracking sales data from all the platforms you sell on.
- Using several marketplaces at once and complying with their different rules for order processing and product formatting.

WHAT IS DROP SHIPPING?

DROP SHIPPING DOCUMENT FLOW

ARE YOU USING A 3PL / 4PL / 5PL?

- 1PL - First-party Logistics Provider
You ship the items from point A to B.
- 2PL - Second-party Logistics Provider
You have a carrier who is responsible for getting your item from A to B, where there may be several different shipping lines, air transport, truck etc.
- 3PL - Third-party Logistics Provider
Outsourcing all or part of your warehouse operations, storage and distribution
- 4PL - Fourth-party Logistics Provider
Responsible for the entire value chain (from procurement to delivery to the end user)
- 5PL - Fifth-party Logistics Provider
Outsourcing procurement, warehouse operations, logistics, transportation, data/analytics

MARKETPLACES

1. A customer places an order through an online marketplace.
2. Order data is transmitted automatically to your ERP.
3. You fulfill the order.
4. Fulfillment and shipping details are automatically transmitted from your ERP system back to the marketplace.
5. The marketplace order is updated with the shipping information.
6. The marketplace notifies the end customer that their order has been fulfilled and is on its way.
